Coinbase announced on November 24, 2020 that it would no longer offer margin trading to investors. This came as a result due to a change in regulation from the Commodity Futures Trading Commission. They stated the following:

When you create an order on Coinbase Pro, we check your buying power before the order is created. Once Margin Trading becomes unavailable, your buying power decreases and we thus might not be able to execute any orders that were already created. Will I still have access to reporting for Margin trades? You can access your previous trades (including Margin trades) via the Orders or Statements sections of your account.

Crypto arbitrage is a form of trading that involves simultaneously buying and selling cryptocurrencies from different exchanges. Arbitrage traders make profit from crypto price differences between exchanges. This involves buying assets for the lowest price available and selling for the highest. The process of arbitrage trading usually gives relatively small returns on each trade. Also, traders must place their orders extremely fast in order to have advantage among other players.
