Automated market makers (AMM) are protocols that provide liquidity to specific markets through automated algorithmic trading. In the context of decentralized cryptocurrency exchanges, automated market makers represent smart contracts that create so-called liquidity pools of tokens, which are automatically traded by an algorithm rather than an order book.

Possibly one of the best known digital currency exchanges is the one that was started by Tyler and Cameron Winklevoss that being Gemini. What differentiates Gemini from most other exchanges is that they are both a fully licensed company and also fully regulated company too, and as such they do have to adhere to the same set of standards in regards to their operation as a banking institution does!

In the most basic sense, an AMM or automated market maker is basically a protocol, an algorithm, or a formula that helps in the pricing of assets. Rather than employing an order book model like traditional exchanges, the automated market maker algorithm helps in pricing the assets. Furthermore, you should also note that the formula for AMMs could differ for each protocol.
