Today, digital coins are widely known and accepted to be a conventional investment option. Using Coinbase itself is pretty secure (as long as you use something like Authenticator for 2FA), but you don't control your actual funds and Coinbase can freeze them or take them from you. A wallet like Coinbase wallet is nice, but with it being in a phone always connected to the internet, there are risks of malware causing problems.

Coinbase Pro charts are messed up as of 11/7/21 at 1:00 AM EDT. I don't know what happened, but suddenly, all candlesticks are drawing across the screen, instead of on top of each other, smearing the graph with every change next to each change, instead of on each time interval. Anyone having the same issue?

Coinbase is good, but it's pretty expensive. They have a lot of services though. One good thing is that some of these exchanges that only list a few coins help us determine the ones that are useful and might hold some fairly stable value. I used to use Coinbase a lot, now Binance.us is my main onramp.

Coinbase is great. Doesn't have the same amount of coins as something like Binance, but has most of the popular ones, and allows for some staking with Algo. Also can apply for the Coinbase Card and get 4% back in XLM. Make sure when you're using Coinbase Pro though. Still free, less fees, more professional.

Published January 1, 2022 Updated December 31, 2021. 2021 was an eventful year for the crypto community, especially for XRP holders given the SEC vs Ripple lawsuit took several bittersweet turns during these past 12 months. While on one hand the XRP community was aggravated by the SECs white lies and prejudice, on the other hand the community saw global support, eventually making the XRP lawsuit one of most historical cases in the decentralised industry.
