The task of these nodes is, as with full nodes, is to create and validate blocks, while at the same time distributing information to users on the network. All participants, not chosen to be an authority node, will be running lightweight nodes (light nodes) which depend on the broadcasted data to be able to operate on the blockchain.

Each cryptocurrency has its network with a set of nodes communicating with each other to verify blocks. Bitcoin, for instance, has a bitcoin network and a set of nodes that communicate with each other randomly. Each node has the authority to verify and validate all Bitcoin transactions and validate every block.
